A GREAT CALAMITY.

Another great calamity has overtaken our town. Nearly one half of the place was yesterday destroyed by fire. It is a terrible blow, and the wound will be all the more deeply felt because of the fact that this is the second time within sixteen months that the same district has been swept by the fiery element. The people in that portion of town were but slowly recovering from their former misfortunes. It will be difficult for many of them to erect new buildings and re-establish themselves in business. The town has been extremely dull since the great conflagration of April, 1879. The situation in this regard must be intensified by the terrible misfortune of yesterday. The Sentinel is satisfied that the burnt district will be rebuilt, but the process must in the very nature of things be slow. There is too much vitality in this community to admit of permanent scars. Our mines are known to be rich and permanent. Great value attaches to favorable business locations at all points on Main street. Hence we conclude that in due time our town will bear few evidences of the great calamity which yesterday visited us.

It is impossible at this writing to aggregate the losses. In our local columns will be found as nearly a complete list as could be compiled in the confusion which followed the fire. The trouble which beset the reporters was the difficulty experienced in finding parties known to be among the sufferers. Considerable insurance is noted, but in a great many instances these sums go to persons to whom the parties losing property have been indebted since the preceding fire. A rough estimate of the losses of yesterday places them at about $750,000, covered by about $150,000 insurance. We do not claim that these figures are even approximately correct, as they amount to nothing more than the merest guess work.

The Sentinel extends to the sufferers, one and all, its sincerest sympathy. Happily this journal, for the first time in ten years when a calamity has visited our town, escaped direct injury, though both of the proprietors sustained losses in outside or individual property.

ONE OF THE SADDEST RESULTS. One of the saddest results of yesterday's fire was the destruction of the International Hotel. It was a three-story building furnished in splendid shape throughout. With the single exception of its namesake in Virginia City, it was the finest hotel in Nevada. It had been completed and furnished late last fall at a cost of about $35,000. The building was deemed to be fire-proof, and per consequence nothing was removed from it. The whole was swallowed up in the seething hell of flame that swept down with resistless fury from the south on toward the northern extremity of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hall were the proprietors. They are an aged couple who have spent the best years of their lives in acquiring this property. They had involved themselves to erect this splendid building and were in a fair way to work off their indebtedness. The insurance which they carried goes to their creditors. They are therefore left comparatively penniless in their declining years.

The Sentinel sincerely condole with them in their sad misfortune and hopes that better luck and brighter skies may be in reserve for them.

EXPLANATORY. A number of journalists and others telegraphed the editor of the Sentinel yesterday for particulars of the fire. The office of the Western Union Telegraph Company was burnt out, and Mr. Spinner, the operator, removed to the railroad depot, nearly a mile from town. We made two trips to the depot during the afternoon and fulfilled all requests for news as far as possible under the circumstances. Some requests had to be ignored, owing to the press of private business claiming the attention of the wires. We make this explanation in order that correspondents who were not served may know that the omission was not due to willful neglect on our part.

The true and proper use of the military power, besides defending the national honor against foreign nations, is to uphold the laws and civil government and to secure to every person residing among us the enjoyment of life, liberty and property.—Winfield Scott Hancock.

The great principles of American liberty still are the lawful inheritance of this people and ever should be.—Winfield Scott Hancock.

LET A PUBLIC MEETING BE HELD.

A great many families were left homeless by the fire of yesterday. No cases of absolute want have thus far been reported, yet there must be cases of destitution and suffering. The fire of a year ago developed many such cases. That of yesterday was still more destructive. It is true that the weather is more favorable than it was on the occasion of our former calamity. But still there may be those who are in sore distress. Let us look them out and give them such assistance as they may need. To this end the Sentinel suggests a public meeting of citizens at the Court-house at 12 m. to-day to organize a Relief Committee. If no one needs help, so much the better, but it is clearly in the line of duty to take early steps to ascertain the real situation of those who have lost their all. The old Relief Committee might be continued and authorized to go ahead in the work of relieving the wants of such as may need immediate aid. If we remember correctly there is still an unexpended balance in the hands of the old committee. This, at least, should be disbursed among deserving cases.

THE LEADER.

The Sentinel regrets the misfortune which yesterday befell its evening contemporary. The fire originated in the immediate vicinity of the Leader office, and soon the whole building was enveloped in flames. The presses and beat part of the material were consumed. Mr. Hobart, the proprietor, is absent in San Francisco. The attaches succeeded in saving only a few cases of type. The Sentinel establishment was placed at their disposal, and in the course of the afternoon they issued a Leader Extra. The free use of Sentinel material has also been tendered until Mr. Hobart can return and arrange to re-establish his journal. In this manner the legal advertisements of the Leader will not be allowed to lapse.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN SAN FRANCISCO.

A dispatch to the Sentinel yesterday afternoon from San Francisco stated that there was great excitement in that city about the Eureka fire. It seems that the first impression down there was to the effect that the whole town had been destroyed. It was fortunately not so bad as that, though destructive enough, the Lord knows.

THANKS.

The type founders in San Francisco have the thanks of the Sentinel. Taking it as a matter of course that our establishment had been destroyed, they yesterday telegraphed, offering to furnish us new material and a complete outfit. Fortunately, their kindness was not needed, but the promptness with which they tendered it is remembered and appreciated nevertheless.

THE KNIGHT TEMPLARS.

Their Camp Thronged with Visitors

A CAR LOAD OF CALIFORNIA FRUITS.

Two Hundred Thousand Strangers.

ANTIQUITY OF THE MASONIC ORDER.

A Gorgeous and Imposing Affair.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

Chicago, August 16.—Much interest is manifested in the California and other Pacific Coast delegations of Knights Templar and their quarters in Camp De Molair are continually thronged with visitors. They are somewhat worn by their long journey, but are in fine trim. Their necessary expenses for the trip will exceed $50,000, which is divided among 142 Knights, making an average of $350 each, but their actual expenses will be much greater, as 90 ladies with nurses and children accompany them. Among the Knights' enterprise is the reception daily by two local Commanderies of a car-load of California fruits, to be dispensed to visiting Knights. The afternoon and evening trains brought hundreds of visitors, and it is estimated that something over 200,000 strangers will be on the streets to-morrow. The hotels are taxed to the utmost, and nearly everybody's private residence has its guest. At McCormick Hall Lieutenant Governor Felt was referred to the occupation of Palestine by the Crusaders, and said that his reception given them by the faithful of that land was not more cordial than that of this State and its chief city to the Knights Templar to-night, for they were not less brave, manly and devoted patriots than the Knights of old. He added the hope that the visiting Commanderies would realize to complete the fulfillment of the Knights' mission of pleasure and profit. At Farwell Hall McClelland, Sweet, representing Governor Cullem, referred to the antiquity of the Masonic order, tracing their history through 25 centuries. They were the great builders of the past, who had left an ineffaceable trace upon the characters, morals, architecture and characteristics of the globe. Masonry stood like the book of Job. Other than the Church of Rome, it was without nationality and was like a star, in its surroundings and origin, unknown, but gleaming out of the darkness upon the brow of night and irradiating the whole world. Masonry had left its mark on the age, which in turn had molded it and changed its arms. The struggle was no longer for the Holy Sepulcher, but the Cross is simply an avoidance of everything which regards the devil, and doing business in the Shadow Market. All debts contracted up to August 1st, 1880, will be paid by the undersigned, jointly, and they will collect all accounts due said firm. The business will be conducted by Wm. Sholderer and after August 1st, 1880, Peter Roberti returning from the firm.

IMPOSING AFFAIR, and the line of march was eight miles in length.

Entrance of a Chinese Steamer into the Port of San Francisco.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—The Treasury officials are considerably perplexed over the question raised by the entrance of a Chinese steamer into the port of San Francisco. It now appears that, in addition to the Allied Steamer Co. of 1200 tons, at the Wo Ching steamer with merchandise from the Sandwich Islands, her cargo will be subject to a discriminating tax of 10 per cent. ad valorem, although the merchandise may be under the reciprocity treaty with the Hawaiian Islands, entitled to enter free.

A Residence Burned, and the Occupant Found in the Ruins.—A More Cases of Small-pox.—A Wrangle Among the Election Commissioners.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 17.—A St. Helena dispatch says: The residence of Mr. Richtaragon, two miles from town, was found in ashes this morning, and the remains of the occupant in the ruins. Nothing is known regarding the circumstances.

Two more cases of small-pox have been discovered—one on Jackson street and the other on Montgomery avenue. Both were removed to the post-house.

The Election Commissioners had a sharp wrangle at the session to-day. Registrar Thayer positively refused to allow Kaplan and his assistant experts, appointed by the board, to have access to the lists of voters.

A Tucson dispatch says: A passenger by the Magdalena stage to-day denies that Reyes ordered the execution of any one at Magdalena, but says he held the inhabitants to the tune of between $4,000 and $5,000.
